This report was established at the request of the Ex-Dir-Compt as a result of a task force study which developed the Percon System. The Agency for years had depended upon a hand count to advise top management of the contractual ceiling of each Directorate. As a result of the Ex-Dir-Compt's memo, the Director of Personnel was charged with the responsibility of maintaining a computer system to report contractual ceilings. The input to this system was started in February 69 and became a firm requirement on 1 July 69.
